SPC'S COMMITMENT TO TITLE IX

One of many functions of the Organizational Culture and Compliance Office is to ensure compliance with federal and state laws, this includes educating the SPC community on our reporting methods and outlining the procedure to adequately address policy violations.

Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972 prohibits any person in the United States from being discriminated against on the basis of sex in seeking access to any educational program or activity receiving federal financial assistance. The U.S. Department of Education prohibits sex discrimination broadly to include various forms of sexual harassment and sexual violence that interfere with a student's ability to equally access educational programs and opportunities.

The requirements and protections of this procedure apply equally regardless of sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, or other protected classes covered by federal or state law.

Should you experience any of the aforementioned violations related to Title IX on one of SPC's learning cites please see Reporting Contacts below.
