

Unlocking Opportunity: The Post-Graduation Success and Equity Network

The Aspen Institute College Excellence Program (Aspen) and its partners at the Community College Research Center (CCRC) have launched a first-of-its-kind initiative that reflects the next wave of the community college student success movement: a bold focus on excellence and equity in post-completion outcomes.

those from lower-income backgrounds, entering and completing programs that lead directly to jobs that pay a family-sustaining wage or to efficient and effective completion of a bachelor's degree.

The participating colleges, announced on February 7, 2023, are:

- Alamo Colleges District with San Antonio College as a pilot college
- Laramie County Community College
- Lorain County Community College
- Monroe Community College
- Odessa College

- Sinclair College
- Southwest Wisconsin Technical College
- St. Petersburg College
- Tulsa Community College
- Valencia College

Plus San Jacinto College as a resource college

Stay tuned for research and insights from the network!

